PEORIA IS BUSIER THAN EVER, BUT IT'S MUCH DRIER

Recalls Days of Whisky, Pure Water, Ingersoll.

How Peoria, largest city in Chicago-land except Chicago, came back after the suppression of its huge whisky dis-tilleries, as whisky distilleries, is genu-tine drama with two heroes in it—For-titude and Common Bense. Peoria is interesting in many ways. It is a city that goes and gets business, but does not forget beauty, But first a little story about the city's name.

Peory! Peory! Peory!" mumbled the conductor as he thrust his head into the car of a train that was daw Whisky Tax Biggest Item.

In the old days the volume of the fact that it is an "open shop town," is on friendly terms with labor, and has had practically no strikes since 1919. The last big strike was then—the Keystone Steel and Wire company broil, but it was not, so I was told, due to local conditions.

way that Peoria had nation wide lebrity for three things—

Before prohibition Peoria paid one half the total of the federal government's internal revenue taxes. That haif came to $36,000,000 a year. It was paid in cash every morning at the rate of $100,000 a day. The government was $1.10 on each gallon.

Peoria, as represented at that leisurely luncheon, sums up thus:

In 1910, population 66,950.

In 1920, 76,121.

In 1925, 93,095. "This last," the gogetters added, "is the best estimate the saying is, the twinkling of an eye, and what is to happen?

Other Uses for Alcohol.

For example:

Alcohol that used to go into the production of whisky now goes into the manufacture of paint and varainsh solvents company from Peoria.

Well, that's the way we felt when this country took whisky away from Peoria.

CILK UNDERWEAR, yesterday, was about the (a) samething as silk underwear ten years ago.

Today—with the suddenness of an entirely new fashion—begins the era of something really different—something permanently better—Princess Royal Underthings made of pure, rich silk-finer, softer, more luxurious and at the same time stronger than anything you have ever before seen!

The great secret of their beauty and long wear is in the new, flawlessly pure silk of which they are made-Spindrift.

Never before has there been a pure silk so chiffon-soft and at the same time so ironstrong. Try as they will, human hands cannot tear it. And unless it is torn, it cannot run.

PRINCESS ROYAL Undergarments are unconditionally guaranteed not to shrink, no matter how often they are washed! Each garment is individually cut by hand-and is reinforced at all the points of greatest wear by dainty silk embroidered buds that "lock" the seams. It is as perfectly designed and as subtly shaped to fit the feminine form as a fine fullfashioned silk stocking, making a splendid foundation for today's mode.

Fighting men thrived on it back in the Dark Ages—that selfsame mixture of oven browned beet, diced carrots and vegetables that today is served in Messinger's Restaurants.

Otherwise it's the same stew stamped with the approval of centuries.

CHICAGO'S GREATEST SHOPPING CENTER

—Where Increasing Thousands of Discriminating Women Do their Shopping-Quietly-Pleasantly-Satisfactorily

> HE Stevens Building stands out and stands alone in Chicago's history. It is the abode of the small shopkeeper with the French idea: The Interest of the Artist in Individual Attention. Every man and woman with a shop in the Stevens Euilding could be a high salaried executive in a large organization. Each prefers the quiet and refinement of this distinctive spot, since here he fills the needs of a smaller and more exacting following, and finds delight in doing it. Everything in Apparel and Costume Accessories, with merchandise of every desirable sort, is to be found in the Stevens Building Shops and is always moderate in price when quality and style are taken into account, and yet it is individual.

Think of It! Twelve Floors of Shops

Each floor is a block long, from State Street to Wabash Avenue, all under a single roof, an avenue in miniature with shop windows along it as if on the street level. Set in Michigan Avenue, these twelve blocks of admirable shops would stretch from Randolph Street to Roosevelt Road-all are filled with artistic and attractive wares-that are different. In many, clearance sales are now going on. And there is no noise, no scuffle, no stop-and-go signal, or dodging of motor cars, no taking of taxies, no crowds, no delays, always pleasant weather no matter what the weather is outside. To pass from one block of stores to another you simply take an elevator up or down; there is an abundance of elevators. Chicago women, in increasing numbers, are learning the advantages of these shops. They represent convenience, variety, charm, fascination.

A World's Exposition of the World's Best

Nearly a hundred Apparel and Accessory Shops, each of high character, each with its own character, are here, and each day brings heavy arrivals of unusually attractive new Fall merchandise.

His sister, Mrs. Mary Strokstrom of St. Louis, died of injuries received in the same accident while Mr. Kelly was en route.

Mrs. Strokstrom was killed when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a machine driven by Douglas I. McKay of Bronxville, N. Y., former deputy police commissioner of New York City. Her mother, Mrs. Thomas Kelly, and C. D. Kelly's sister, Mrs. Albin Bastien, both of Chicago, also were injured.

McKay was driving alone and the Kelly party was riding in a large sedan operated by a chauffeur. The cars were traveling in opposite directions when a side sweeping collision occurred on the rain drenched road and the Kelly sedan was overturned. Mrs. Stockstrom was pinned beneath the car and died instantly.

Our Chicago business leaders, subdividers and financiers, including Mr. Britigan, have lately invested millions in outlying properties, to be re-sold to the public—and—they are still investing. They know that the stupendous and continual increase in Chicago's population—100,000 yearly—indicates inevitable corresponding increases in property values.

And now, this organization which has marketed over 100 Chicago subdivisions that have become thriving, modern communities that have brought profit to thousands—this organization has succeeded in buying for cash on an acreage price basis, a large tract right in the heart of the city—a tract, the only one of the kind, which owing to peculiar circumstances, has long been withheld from the market, while all around and far beyond it, new and modern apartment and business districts have sprung up and built in solidly.

No other large tract so situated is now available,

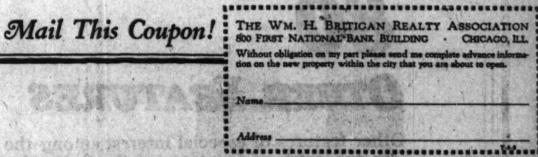

Why this property was held intact while the city grew up about it—how these city lots can be sold now, with all improvements, at subdivision prices, giving buyers a most unusual opportunity to profit, are facts that are readily obtainable in advance, and remember this, the way to make money in real estate is to know the facts, soon enough, and to act upon them. The Generator

The Generator of the Bryan Oil-Burning Boiler is a nest of durable copper tubes ingeniously arranged in the direct path of natural heat travel—on the principle of the familiar hot water heater. By using copper tubes, closely intertwined, instead of heavy cast from walls as in the ordinary coal boiler, the effective heating surface is greatly enlarged, the circulation of water is tremendously accelerated and the water is heated or converted into steam in one-fifth the time required in an ordinary boiler.

The Combustion Chamber

Oil Burner Manufacturers who have not already done so, are invited to test their oil burners with the Bryan Oil-Burning Boiler at the Bryan Steam Corporation plants at Peru, Indiana.
Such tests will give them accurate data on the savings effected with their particular burners.

With this lew Dil-Bullening

With the Bryan Oil-Burning Boiler and any good oil burner, you can have modern oil heat in your home at less than coal cost.

Also, you can burn oil with a 30% to 50% saving in fuel, as compared to the use of oil in a coal-burning boiler.

Oil heat is everywhere displacing coal in home heating plants. And this in spite of the fact that oil burners have been seriously handicapped by boilers not designed to burn oil.

This barrier to maximum efficiency need no longer be tolerated.

The Bryan Oil-Burning Boiler is designed, in the light of oil-burning experience, expressly

INDIANA

So you can now have, for the first time, perfect coordination of burner and boiler, with the greatly increased efficiency and economy which only such coordination can produce.

The remarkable savings of the Bryan Oil-Burning Boiler constitute one of the outstanding contributions to home heating efficiency and economy.

The Bryan Oil-Burning Boiler, with its remarkable efficiency, costs no more than the ordinary coal boiler. It actually pays for itself in fuel saved. It operates efficiently and economically with any good oil burner, in steam, hot water, vapor, or vacuum heating systems. See it in operation at the address given below.

Hot water for household use costs 50% less with the Bryan Oil-Burning Boiler. A special hot water coil does away with the costly separate water heater and provides abundant hot water all the year round.

"Trimountaine shall be called Boston"

In September, 1630, the Court of Assistants, as the first legislative body of the colony of Massachusetts was called, voted "that Trimountaine shall be called Boston." This was the month and year that most of the settlers of Charlestown moved across the Charles to that threepronged eminence now known as Beacon Hill.

Boston was a most appropriate name for this new settlement. Boston in old England was the county seat of Lincolnshire, the home of the Lady Arbella and her husband Mr. Johnson, as well as of many of the other Like Boston in old England, Boston in New England has become the birthplace of pioneers and settlers of the frontiers of civilization.

The sons and daughters, the grandsons and granddaughters of the children of Boston keep returning to the place of their forefathers. At this time of year they come in great numbers, and we bid them all welcome. We hope that they will visit us, for our business was started before Boston became a city, more than one hundred and twenty-six years ago, and we take pride in our belief that we have grown and improved with our city.

Catholic deputies from the state of Pueblo have undertaken to father the bill in congress. A lively fight between the Catholics and the radicals in congress is expected.

What's It All About?

The strike of the Musicians' Union isn't logical or sane or just. There is absolutely nothing to base it on. We met their final demands. What more could we do? Or is it that the executives of the Union found us so easy that they decided to break the agreement and ask for something more?

When we left them Saturday night all terms had been agreed uponwages, term of contract, working conditions, working hours—everything. But something happened between Saturday night and Sunday morning to change their minds. We would like to have someone tell us what it was. We don't know, the members of the Musicians' Union don't know, and we doubt if their executives know.

This method of dealing is rather old fashioned for Chicago. There was a time when arbitrary and dictatorial tactics were in vogue, and sometimes proved successful. But those ancient methods have given way to intelligent and honorable negotiations. Have the executives of the Musicians' Union become habitual contract breakers? They persistently violated the 1925 agreement with the smaller theatres and compelled them to employ orchestras, which they could not afford, and which should have been dispensed with under the terms of that agreement.

Within twelve hours after making a new agreement, they arbitrarily break that.

WHY?

Has it reached the point in this country where business men with big investments can't conduct their establishments as they deem necessary—or must they be subjected to the whims and caprices of men who make an agreement one minute and break it the next?

The Theatre Owners stand ready to fulfill their agreement in every particular. If the executives of the Musicians' Union will allow their members to do the same, they will be at work immediately.

The Greatest Single Force

for increasing merchandise consumption in America

r. An advertisement in The American Magazine has the power of Sixty-Six Million Circulation-Days—the greatest power that can be given it in my general monthly or weekly magazine.

2. In most towns of 1,000 or more population The American Magazine has more circulation than any other general monthly or weekly magazine. 3. Everywhere The American Magazine parallels your market opportunity to an unusual degree. Its circulation by counties closely follows the distribution of income tax payers, retail outlets, auto owners, and home owners. And it reaches all classes of people in proportion to their market

4. Numerous house-to-house investigations have shown that The American Magazine is read by all members of the family that influence consumption -fathers, mothers, and young people.

5. The things that people read in The American Magazine stimulate them to better living—to a fuller, richer life. For years its unusual reader responsiveness has been known to those advertisers who could trace this through direct returns.

Checking up on Advertising from the Salesman's point of view

In this series of tanks to salesmen we have repeatedly made this statement:

"Your firm's product, if it is advertised in The American Magazine, has behind it the greatest single force for increasing merchandise consumption in America.'

We should like to have you check this against your own personal experience as a salesman.

You have found this so

You know, for instance, that the number of orders you write depends to a large extent on the number of calls you make.

It is not so different with an advertisement.

The sales-making power of an advertisement is determined largely by the number of chances it has of being seen and read.

Now your firm's advertisement has more chances of being seen and read in The American Magazine than in any other general weekly or monthly publication.

In the first place it appears in 2,200,000 copies. And each copy of this tremendous monthly issue is "in date" for a full 30 days.

It has behind it the unequalled power of 66,000,000 Circulation-Days. Or, as a salesman recently put it, 66,000,000 "working days."

And this also

You know, however, that the number of calls is not all that counts.

Some prospects are better than others. Some territories are better than others. Some salesHence you realize the significance of the five points mentioned in the panel above.

They state briefly why:

(Point 2) The American Magazine reaches more people in just the places where your chances to sell your product are best; (Point 3) Why it reaches all classes of people who are the best prospects for your product;

(Point 4) Why it gets an interested hearing for your product from the whole family. (Point 5) Why the prospects The American Magazine calls upon for your firm are . especially live ones.

The dealer angle

We call these facts to your attention because showing dealers what your firm is doing to make people want your merchandise—to make that merchandise move.

So, to help you give these facts to dealers in terms of their own towns, we have prepared The Vest Pocke: Sales Manual.

It brings home to dealers (with figures for all towns of 1,000 and more population and for all counties) just what your firm is doing to stimulate the consumption of your product right in

If you have need of live, local facts to "crack" some tough prospect, or to give old customers a fresh "shot," write us for The Vest Pocket

FLAGSTAFF WINS OVER IRON MASK IN CRETE FEATURE

Winner Invades the West from Saratoga Conquests

BY FRENCH LANE.

The middle west got the stuffing kicked out of its turf aspiretions at Lincoln Fields yesterday when Fiagstaff, benefitted by a mighty ride by Bobbie Jones, captured the seven furlong Roseland handicap.

Fingstaff, owned by Mr. H. H. Cotton of Los Angeles, dropped from out of the skies fresh from a campaign at Saratoga to come from far back and nip Iron Mask II., in the final strides of one of the most spectacular turf battles here this season. Iron Mask II, is also a far westerner.

Iron Mask II, is also a far westerner but he has been in the Chicago district for most of the summer. He had been thoroughly conditioned here and stepped out on a track which was supposed to be just to his liking. But Jockey H. Elston rode a sleepy race. He was well back during the early stages and called on Iron Mask II. for all the gallant son of Maintenon-Maskelyn had on the turn into the stretch. Iron Mask II. spent much of his energy and courage sailing into the lead.

SMITTY-THE KID LEARNS SOMETHING

Jones Rides Skifffelly.

He continued to show the way right. Up to within the shadow of the finish line. Then Bobby Jones began to show up Eiston. He brought Figstaff up from far back and midway down the stretch had passed everybody but Iron Mask II.

While Eiston was steering Iron Mask into what seemed to be the deepest going on a rough and slow track, Jones was wide awake. He picked out a spot which seemed dryest out far from the rail and gave Flagstaff his head. Then he applied the whip a few times and the aged son of Broomstick, winner of the handicap championship at. Haw thorns a year ago, came along as if he had winged legs. He made up much ground and twenty strides out had raced to even terms with the floundering Iron Mask.

On down to the finish line they thundered. First from Mask II had his nose in front. A second later Flagstaff was in the lead. But in the final strides in the lead. From Bath, Ill., in the heart of a wonderful waterfowl country, comes the first news about the ducks that have checked in for the 1926 season. John Fletcher, a resident of the town, reports that in addition to the sprinting teal there are good sized flocks of sprigs or pintails. A few mailards also have registered there with their usual corn appetites. With the opening of the duck season just a few weeks away city hunters who want Illinois river gunaing should make arrangements at once for a shoot. This is especially true of the boys who want to man the goose trenches and wield a 12 gauge on the honkers.

The Company now is the largest producer of paper patterns and one of the foremost magazine publishing houses in the world and has operated at a profit every year since the or-ganization of the present Company in 1881. Including assets, in addition to physical and current, which are of basic value to successful publishing companies, a very conservative estimated valuation of the property and business of The Butterick property and business of The Butterick Publishing Company is in excess of

From his letter to us Mr. R. C. Sharp, who is to be President of the Corporation, summarizes as follows:

Corporation: Oklahoma Natural Gas Corporation, a Maryland corporation, is to acquire, as stated below, Oklahoma Natural Gas Corporation, a Maryland corporation, is to acquire, as stated below, substantially all the assets of Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, Kingwood Pipeline Company, Southern Gas Company and substantially all the assets and/or stock of Okmulgee Gas Company, and will constitute one of the largest natural gas systems in the United States, serving either directly or indirectly approximately 86,330 customers in 44 communities. The population of the counties in which the lines of the above companies are located is over 1,200,000, and of the territory served is over 400,000, including the cities of Tulsa, Sapulpa and Okmulgee served at retail and Oklahoma City, Muskogee and Guthrie at wholesale. Oklahoma Natural Gas Corporation, in the opinion of Messrs. S. W. Hayes and B. A. Richardson, attorneys, of Oklahoma City, Okla., will acquire the titles of Oklahoma Natural Gas Company to its properties through appropriate corporate proceedings with the approval or acquiescence of upwards of 97 per cent of the stock of Oklahoma Natural Gas Company.

The properties to be so acquired include leaseholds on more than 126,200 acres, of which over 100,000 acres are proven natural gas reserves; gas purchase contracts covering about 101,935 acres of additional proven reserves; over 1,800 miles of transmission and distribution lines and 9 modern compressor stations. These properties contain over 430 producing wells with an open flow capacity of over two billion cubic feet. Messrs. Weld & Liddell, engineers, estimate that from the above properties and the development of potential resources in other territories (situated in part near existing pipe lines) which may be covered by additional leases and gas purchase contracts, there should be available to the corporation natural gas reserves sufficient for its requirements for a minimum of 20 years.

Earnings: Consolidated net earnings for the years ended December 31, of the properties to be so acquired, available for interest, reserves for renewals, replacements and depletion and Federal taxes, as prepared by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., based upon an audit from January 1, 1924 to April 30, 1926, a general review of the accounts for the calendar years 1922 and 1923, and an examination of the financial statements for May and June, 1926, have been as follows:

Net earnings as above for the year ended June 30, 1926, are equivalent to over 2.4 times, and for the 4½ years ended June 30, 1926, average more than twice the combined annual interest charges on this issue and the $15,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds. Such net earnings for the year ended June 30, 1926, after deducting the maximum annual interest and sinking fund requirements on the $15,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, are equivalent to more than 3 times the maximum annual interest and sinking fund charges on this issue of Debentures.

Net income of the properties to be so acquired, as prepared by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., for the year ended June 30, 1926, after deducting annual requirements for interest on the First Mortgage Bonds and Debentures and dividends on the Preferred Stock (all as to be presently outstanding) and after deducting reserves for renewals, replacements and depletion as determined by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Incorporated (based upon the above mentioned gas reserves), and Federal taxes, is equivalent to $3.48 per share on the Common Stock to be presently outstanding.

Assets: Ford, Bacon & Davis, Incorporated, have appraised the reproduction cost new, less depreciation, of the properties to be so acquired at $26,956,564, as of March 31, 1926, without giving effect to any value attaching to gas purchase contracts, good will or other intangible items.

Sinking Fund: A Sinking Fund, commencing September 1, 1927, is designed to retire this entire issue by maturity, without including additional funds which may become available to the Sinking Fund by reason of the conversion of Debentures.

We offer these Debentures, when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of our counsel, Messrs. Cotton & Franklin, New York, and Messrs. Wing & Russell, New York, as to all legal matters except titles of the Corporation to its properties, which have been passed upon by Oklahoma cornsel. It is expected that delivery will be made in the form of Temporary Debentures or Interim Receipts on or about September 21, 1926.

KNOW These Five Things About Your Investment House

[1] What is its record over a period of many years?

The record of an investment house is important when it indicates the triumph of a strong, steadfast, conservative policy through good times and bad—not for five years or ten years—but, as in the case of the House of Forman—for more than four decades. It is a fact, not a slogan, that for 41 years, since this institution was founded in 1885, no investor—not one—has ever failed to receive every dollar of his principal and interest from an investment sponsored by the House of Forman.

[2] Has it specialized group experience at its command?

Upon each successive step in the origination of a Forman Bond issue is brought to bear the combined judgment of a group of experienced executives and specialists—men whose knowledge rests upon many years of active service in their particular and varied fields.

[3] Has its growth been normal, consistent and sure?

A healthy expansion, year after year, of both the facilities and the clientele of an investment house—growth such as this institution has enjoyed since its inception—can mean only that the investing public has willed that it shall grow great, because it serves faithfully and well.

[4] Has it financial responsibility and ample resources?

The ample resources, and the complete financial responsibility which make the House of Forman so highly regarded by banks and bankers, is of vital importance to investors.

[5] Has it a reputation for sound conservatism, jealously guarded?

It is the creed of every member of this organization that he shall ever strive to enhance, never to jeopardize, the priceless asset of

Just as attention has been drawn to the grain pits by recent happenings, and the final report of the Federal Trade Commision's long drawn out investigation—representing husky additions to the mountains of such official print already piled up—Edward Jerome Dies publishes a book "Solving the Farm Riddle"—which doesn't solve any riddle, but frankly dissects the failures of cooperative buying and selling in the past. This writer is not so optimistic as to believe that humanity learns anything from past mistakes, and the punctured panaceas of the past may prove more important in entertaining his readers than in shaping the course of human events. As that can be said of nearly every great author who has been dead long enough, it is intended as a Brief Answers.

One gathers from the facts marshaled by Mr. Dies that the work of the middleman has to be done in this world, and that the correct principles under which that work must be done are the same economic principles which govern all business. Sure it will pass into history. But what about the farmers? Will they, too, pass into history? Such classes have passed into history before, and the sub-sequent history was not always pleas-ant. Perhaps the new industrial revolution has in fact made the problem of readjusting agriculture to other industry even more difficult—and even more "paramount"?

Soviet comrades have had to break strikes and set up gold standard banks of discount and issue. In short, the principles which have made capitalism successful do not cease to operate when capitalists are not on the scene.

But here's a question. Mr. Dies says, "A bloodless revolution, that escaped historians, has been taking place in this country. It has enormously increased the

Co-ordinated Experience

Any good mechanic can purchase in the open market and assemble the complete parts of an automobile. However, the outstanding cars of today are not so produced.

Similarly, it is not a matter of great difficulty to assemble the necessary capital and personnel to organize a first mortgage bond company. But a really great house does not quickly spring into existence.

Instead, it is composed of a group of able men of high integrity, who through years of continuous association, working shoulder to shoulder in the solution of common problems have acquired a co-ordinated and highly specialized experience which can be secured in no other way.

So, in judging STRAUS bonds, consider these facts regarding the house itself:

For 44 years S. W. STRAUS & CO. have followed a single line of activity—the making and marketing of real estate securities of the highest possible character.

S. W. STRAUS & CO. therefore is an organization of trained specialists—not a mere collection of capital.

The tremendous resources of S. W. STRAUS & CO. represent a natural development, not external investments-success and power built upon slow, solid and continuous growth.

Throughout the organization, the key men-producers—are sharers in the Company prosperity they are one with the officers and directors in their pride in the ever-increasing achievements of this organization.

These are among the many causes that make possible safety. yield, diversification, and market on a scale which sets standards for this field of investments.

If you are not thoroughly informed on Straus Bonds we have some very interesting descriptive literature which we shall be glad to send you. Write for

THE Chicago district now ranks as one of the world's L chief steel producing bases.

For many years the irresistible forces of superior natural advantages and favorable economic conditions have been accelerating the development of the Chicago iron and steel industry. An abundant, easily accessible supply of raw materials—adequate transportation facilities by rail and water—ample power—and a steadily expand-ing home market for steel products of all kinds—these factors, among others, have contributed to this growth year by year.

According to reliable authorities, in 1924 (the latest year for which complete figures are available) 62% of all the open hearth furnaces built in the United States were constructed in the Chicago district; also 62% of the by-product ovens; 35% of the country's blast furnace capacity and 24% of the new rolling mills.

Well chosen bonds of successful Middle West steel companies deservedly enjoy the confidence of conservative investors.

You'll Delight to Drive this New Seven-Passenger Sedan

WHEN you see the new Hupmobile Eight Seven-Passenger Sedan, you will be struck by its slim, beautiful lines; its freedom from that bulky, unwieldy look which has heretofore characterized seven-passenger models.

When you drive it, you will find, to your delight, that it steers and turns and parks with all the unprecedented ease its appearance would lead you to expect.

The difference between this new type of seven-passenger sedan is, in a degree, the difference between a beautifully trim private yacht and an ocean liner.

This car is new, too, in its appeal. For it will be looked upon with particular favor by those who have at least occasional need of a seven-passenger car, but who have heretofore eschewed such ownership because of its usual unwieldiness.

Body engineering to match the fine chassis engineering of Hupmobile, builds into this car roomy comfort which equals or surpasses that in cars of longer wheelbase,

There is extra room in the driving compartment, extra room in front of the really comfortable auxiliary seats, and extra room between these and the rear seats.

This beautiful body is mounted upon the great Hupmobile chassis which has been found comparable to only one other car—and that a fine car of Italian manufacture costing several times the Hupmobile price.

We want you to drive this seven-passenger sedan and know the new ease of driving which Hupmobile engineering has made available in this field. We will gladly arrange a demonstration over the telephone without the slighest obligation on your part.

Clara Bow is a star now. She made such a hit as a demond flapper that Jesse Lasky tore up her contract as a featured player and asked her to kindly put her name on the dotted line of a starring document. She will have the leading feminine rôle in Paramount's picturisation of "It," by Ellow Clara.

Where Asked.

The Answers.

R. E. Stitt, Indianapolis, Ind., railroad clerk.—A prize fighter. One fight, then he could retire. A college professor — well, he's a college professor with his work, but he always has to work.

A prize fighter has a few fights, gets his money, then retires.

Mrs. Judith Potter, 5225 Race avenue, housewife.—A college professor every time. It is a noble professor of the professor every time. It is a noble professor fair to the authors to add that Prohibition is the only known sin omitted from the inventory they devised for "Kongo."

He runs a store with a cash-register and in customers; and his underwear is pretty bad, although he's indicated as the possessor of vast wealth. BY JANE EDDINGTON. Carrots of the Season. few cooks can make carro and, more than that give the edible and, more than that give them edibility plus, that we might almost lest out a cook's ability as a vegetable book by asking her to cook carrots. New carrots are with us the year around now, but prejudices which grew up when old carrots were cooked to hatefulness are still in effect. The small new carrots that we may get at this season, which should be cooked whole, are as different from the whole carrot of the old-fashioned boiled dinner as brass is from gold.

is from gold. When properly cooked, the carrot sas sweet as sweet potato or sweets makes as good a pie if the cook knows low to prepare it—and is bright and seautiful in color. It is true dietetic rold, too, when rightly treated. New arrots steamed and mashed are unclievably sweet and will cook in one-lievably sweet and will cook believably sweet and will cook in one-half hour if cut in pieces of equal size, or less. Lately, at an inexpensive eat-ing pface run by women with domestic science training, there were carrots on the plate, served with the meat, which were in dice less than one-half inch arge, and they were excellent.

When the small carrots cannot be steamed whole, blanch them for five minutes efter washing [brushing is necessary], after which pour cold water over them and rub off the skins at once. They are prettier this way than when scraped, and little piles of them cooked make a handsome garnish for a roast. In serving the mixture we call a vegetable plate, they or carrot in some nice service, are almost needed for its completeness.

To finish cooking the small carrots, add only so much cold water to them as will cook away by the time they become tender with gentle cooking, in a covered utensil. Use a little salf for seasoning, one tablepsoon of butter to one or two bunches of small carrots, and use a bit of sugar if you like it, perhaps, blended with the butter or put into the cooking water.

Subtlety Is Better than Tears When Making Up Again

BY DORIS BLAKE.
Recently I advised an anxious to had quarreled with her sweetry to forget him, make ends, not stand by weeping an and waiting like the nation. og, and waiting, like the patient Gelda, for him to come awageriack into her life. That seemed to r sound advice, in view of the fact the male pride is puffed up by the wate ful-waiting attitude, and that a suit is much more likely to come to heel he sees his beloved dancing and dinfra with some one else.

But A. H. does not agree with me. She writes: "If H. H. really loved him, as she said she did, she would call him, up and ask him to come and talk things over. I, myself, am waiting to hear from some one, and her case may be the same. So after all, a phone call or a letter may fix things up, as I believe such will in my case."

Well, my dear, if the quarrel was lieve such will in my case."

Well, my dear, if the quarrel was over some trifling matter, and you believed, on cooler consideration, that you were in the wrong. I heartily concur with you. I decidedly do not believe that arrogance or pride are worth standing up for, when it comes to lovers' quarrels. It is only that girls must be delicate in this matter of pursuing an errant lover. Men have been used to the business of pursuit for so many centuries that some of them are affronted if the girls change places with them.

If you are convinced your sweet heart is the only one in the world for you, and that the quarrel was silly and unimportant, why, take steps to make up, of course. But employ a light touch, by all means! Don't let him know you've been lying awake o' nights, weeping into your pillow. That is, unless he is an exceptionally modest, youth. Because his chest measurement youth. Because his cheet an expanse, and he might decide that, if he's that good as a Romeo, he'd better be looking for a movie queen as his bride.

Re offhand about your reconciliation. Be offhand about your reconciliation.

Never let pride stand between you and your true love, but be sure not to cheapen yourself in his eyes.

Kill Monotony and You Kill Woman's Greatest Foe-Age

Monotony is the most ageing thing in the world. This is said to be the reason why women, on the whole, age more quickly than men. Women in the business world naturally have the youth preserving advantages of new and quickening interests daily, but the woman who stays at home and makes little effort to shift the scenes is the victim of ageing routine.

In order to keep young you must make an endeavor to rub up against different people and introduce a change of scene and thought. It is the most effective measure of getting away from your own self. Any of us who have reached voting age know that constant companionship with self is deadening.

must be beau day."

Women whose round is the same week after week and year after year soon get tired and dispirited. They look as though they had lost the desire for change and for improvement. They may not have lost the desire, but they have let themselves get into such a groove that they have forgotten how, at one time, they used to long for change and pretty things. It is bad for women to get to this stage. They age quickly and become soured and hard to live with.

Every one needs a change, and while it is easy for the woman with means to have it, a prohibitive expenditure of money is not necessary. There is a sense of exhiliration to be got by sim-ply changing the whole order of the day, occasionally. Do only the absolutely essential bits of housework, say, and then declare it a day and go and dress for a holiday and walk out and take it, if no more than for a walk or a shop gazing expedition. Banish every thought of housekeeping from your mind and enjoy yourself.

Or make some sort of change in the living room, bedroom or any room of the house that has "stayed put" for ages. To have something new to look at or talk about is the best stimulant in the world. Or, if this is too much bother, try making a change in your self, if it is only to do your hair an-other way. People notice if you are old in spirit much sooner than if you are old in looks, for, after all, every one has to get old some time, but you do not have to grow old in mind and

One of these is the closely girded hip line appearing here in a yoke effect formed by a slanting band. Indeed, this model has quite a little suggestion of the side-to-side drapery which is such a feature of the autumn modes. Of course there is no drapery present, but the whole movement of this akirt with the group of plaits at one side recalls this tendency.

A second point presented is the employment of bands. These are a constant trimming resource today and occur in infinite variety of placement. In this case they are of dull pink embroidered in gold circles. A knot of

My most embarrassing moment oc-curred yesterday when I took my little grandchild, Elaine, to dinner in a new AGNES: AN OFFENSIVE BREATH demands immediate aftention. It may be a catarrhal condition, enlarged tonsils, or a stomach condition. You must get at the root of the trouble and eliminate it. Treat the nose and throat with an antiseptic solution. ## Such Flavor

THE price you pay for ou Quaker Oats. The difference is in the flavor. And flavor, above all things, is important in oats.

That rich and toasty Qualeer flavor is the result of some 50 years' milling experience. Once you taste it, you are spoiled for ordinary oats.

That is why millions demand the Quaker brand—why you should accept no other.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. Protein, carbohydrates, and vitamines and "bulk" are thus combined to make Quaker Oats an excellently "balanced" food.

You can't put your finger on it—this alluring autumn haze that's in the air. You see it see it over the fields and under the trees. But it vanishes the moment you look closely.

It is there, though, and it invites you out into the country. You never find it at any other time of the year, and it makes fall driving the most other time of the year, and it in the property of the property of the year, and it in the property of the prop delightful in all the twelve months.

automobile to enjoy it fully. The sunlight slanting through the trees makes you want to roll comfortably along. Something in the air seems to protest against speed and noise.

Fall is especially made for reconditioned V 63 Cadillac motoring. In one of these cars you can loaf along down the byways and side roads soaking in the sunshine. You won't need to work at the wheel. You won't notice the quiet engine. You won't noice the bumps, so easily does it ride.

The price is attractive. Terms are available and you can use your present car as part payment.
